The River Valley Fest is our annual fundraiser and social event. Proceeds from it support our mission of preserving and protecting the natural and cultural resources of the San Dieguito River Valley and expand the San Dieguito River Park. To this end, the San Dieguito River Valley Conservancy acquires land, restores habitat, and provides educational programs among other projects, including trail building.

The San Dieguito River Valley - including the San Dieguito River Park - runs from the mountains by Julian to the Pacific Ocean between Del Mar and Solana Beach. More than 57,000 acres of land have been protected by the Conservancy and its partners. More than 68 miles of trails have been established for the people of San Diego to enjoy, including 48 miles of the planned 70-mile Coast to Crest Trail.

Over 1300 Conservancy members live or work throughout the San Dieguito River Valley. In addition, many residents of Solana Beach, Del Mar, San Diego, Escondido, Poway, Ramona, Julian live near it. Our annual River Valley Fest is a great opportunity for you to show this audience, which you share with us, that you also support our conservation, education and recreation programs.
