MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

What a year it has been. Our hearts go out to all of those who have suffered through the COVID-19 pandemic. We hope we've been able to help by encouraging folks to enjoy the San Dieguito River Valley. Getting some exercise outside is good for the mind and body.

As an added plus, exploring the outdoors lets you learn about the biodiverse region that we call home.

That biodiversity is thriving on 117 acres overlooking Lake Hodges that we purchased this year. Acquiring the pristine coastal sage scrub habitat was made possible with state and federal grants and, most importantly, by $367,000 contributed by more than 2,000 generous donors.

On the restoration front, this year we have ripped out invasive species and planted native plants with the help of the Urban Corps of San Diego County, California Native Plant Society and other volunteers. Despite the pandemic, we organized restoration projects in Gonzalez Canyon, River Path Del Mar, San Pasqual Valley, Rancho Santa Fe and elsewhere.

The education component of our mission continues to reach people of all ages. Pollinator's Paradise, Next to Nature, Exploring our Sense of Place and Watershed Explorers combine varying degrees of experiences in the field with classroom or online elements. Many of our Watershed Explorers are kids from the inner city. All of our education programs share a common goal — connecting people with nature.

One of the best ways to make that connection is by having fun. Our recreation program is stronger than ever and is anchored by the ever-popular Coast to Crest Trail Challenge. This year, more than 400 people completed the five-hike challenge to earn their prize.

Also this year, the Coast to Crest Trail itself grew one mile closer to completion, with 49 of 71 miles now open. Thanks to a $1.5 million grant secured by the River Park, plans are progressing to build a critical trail connection and bridge over the river in Fairbanks Ranch. Within the next few years, we will be able to hike uninterrupted from the coast to the San Pasqual Valley.

None of our programming would be possible without our great partnerships, starting with that of the San Dieguito River Park Joint Powers Authority. New collaborations include working with the Green Infrastructure Consortium and Lumbercycle to develop an inventory of nature-based solution projects within the San Dieguito watershed. A $50,000 grant from the San Diego Foundation is funding those initiatives.

On the Conservancy's Board of Directors, it is my great pleasure to serve with such talented, experienced, and hardworking colleagues. I'm honored to be chosen by them to represent the Conservancy.

What are your ideas? How can we continue to serve you better? Just let us know.

Sincerely,

Jim Smith

Jim Smith, President

► Building Bridges

Osuna Valley

With your help, our partners at the River Park are laying plans for another bridge to nature — this one to span the river in Osuna Valley. A feasibility study presents three possible bridge types: Prefabricated steel truss, precast concrete bulb-tee girder and recycled railcar. The bridge will provide a final linkage to complete 31 contiguous miles of the Coast to Crest Trail from Del Mar all the way to San Pasqual Valley.

CONSERVATION

Del Dios Land Acquisitions

With your help, the San Dieguito River Valley Conservancy now holds title to 117 acres of habitat overlooking Lake Hodges. Escrow closed in early 2021. Supporters were generous and swift, donating nearly $347,000 in just three months to retire the Conservancy's share of the purchase price. Special thanks go to sellers Stuart and Jeanie Donelson for making a $50,000 price reduction.

Restoration Projects

This year, we have fought the battle against invasive plant species on three fronts. We are revegetating riparian corridors after hauling out great volumes of giant reeds and salt cedar at Lusardi Creek, Rancho Santa Fe, Fairbanks Ranch and San Pasqual Valley. As camera-trap photos have shown, restoration projects improve habitat function. They also improve the hydrology of rivers and creeks and reduce wildfire risks.

Lusardi County Preserve

- Funding: $18,664 from the California Fire Safe Council
- Partners: California Native Plant Society, Urban Corps of San Diego County, County of San Diego

EDUCATION

WEBSITE DEVELOPMENT

The pandemic has made online learning part of our daily lives. The Conservancy is keeping pace by upgrading the webpages of our educational programs to make them more interactive and user friendly. Funded by grants of $10,000 from the Conrad Prebys Foundation and $5,000 from the Walter J. & Betty C. Zable Foundation, the upgrades improve users' online experience with videos, photos, text and game-like interaction.

WATERSHED EXPLORERS

Watershed Explorers dive into the watershed from the San Dieguito River's headwaters on Volcan Mountain all the way to the Birdwing Open Air Classroom at San Dieguito Lagoon. Along the way, Watershed Explorers visit the San Diego Archaeological Center, Sikes Adobe Historic Farmstead and Lake Hodges. Each visit focuses on different aspects of the watershed's natural history and cultural significance. Partners: San Dieguito River Park JPA, Volcan Mountain Foundation, San Diego Archaeological Center.

THROUGH THE LENS

Through the Lens explores wildlife behavior captured by our camera-traps. By analyzing the images, students become citizen scientists and gain an appreciation of the land. The data they gather contributes to land-management plans designed to increase wildlife connectivity and adapt to climate change. Partner: Climate Science Alliance, SDG&E

POLLINATOR'S PARADISE

Pollinator's Paradise gets kids excited about one of our most dynamic pollinators – the Painted Lady butterfly. Kids witness the caterpillar's metamorphosis in class before releasing butterflies in the field. The program explains the pressures pollinators face and how students can become stewards of the natural environment. Partner: Climate Science Alliance, SDG&E

NEXT TO NATURE

In 6, live stream episodes, we get Next to Nature. Hosted by Executive Director Trish Boaz, the YouTube videos include live conversations with experts to explore what all of us can do to create eco-beneficial landscapes in our own back yards. Partners: Green Infrastructure Consortium, REI Co-op, Condor Visual Media

EXPLORING OUR SENSE OF PLACE

The Exploring Our Sense of Place program brings adult participants to the San Dieguito River Valley during all seasons to encounter plant, animal and human inhabitants and to connect to nature with their hearts and minds. The sold-out, eight-session program includes a reception, excursions with lectures by experts and special "reflection times."

RECREATION

COAST TO CREST TRAIL CHALLENGE

The Coast to Crest Trail Challenge continues to draw hundreds of hikers to the river valley's trail network. We love the smiling selfies sent by our superstar hikers. The Coast to Crest Challenge turns five this year and we're marking the milestone with five new hikes: Santa Fe Valley, Black Mountain Summit, Dust Devil Trail, Gonzalez Loop Trail, and Blue Sky Preserve and Lake Poway Trail. We can't wait to see your selfies!

YOGA AT THE BIRDWING

Yoga at the Birdwing is another one of our recreation mainstays. The soothing setting and gentle breezes of the river valley add to the enjoyment of the monthly sessions. We meet in the open air classroom at 10 a.m. on the third Sunday of the month. Susan McCrea is our instructor. Join us!

NEW TRAIL AT SANTA FE VALLEY

Have you explored the newly-opened Santa Fe Valley Trail Extension? The hike is one the five in this year's Coast to Crest Trail Challenge series. You'll love arriving at Lusardi Creek and finding the shade of the willow, cottonwood and sycamore trees. The hike includes the newest segment of the Coast to Crest Trail and, as it follows Lusardi Creek, challenges hikers with a moderate climb.
